Nevada lumbermen would do well to follow the example of the more economical people of Maine when felling the forests of our mountains. Had they exercised care and judgment the foot hills all about us would not look so bare and brown. An exchange says: well informed lumbermen declare that there is more lumber in the forests of Maine today than there was ten years ago, because care has been exercised in the felling of trees during recent years. Only good-sized trees are cut now adays, the smaller being allowed to stand until they attain a proper growth.

Nick of the Woods, a border drama, was put on the stage at Carson, Nev., Tuesday night with local talent. Why He Didn't Rise.

Detroit is a lovely city, and everybody knows it. The love of it is bred in the bone and never gets out of the flesh. The other Sunday a visiting clergyman addressed the Sunday school of an uptown church. After a serious talk he said to the children:

"All of you who desire to live in a better world than this please rise to your feet."

All the children rose except one small boy in the corner.

The good man looked at him in pained surprise.

"My child," he said, very gently and kindly, "why don't you rise with the others?"

"Detroit's good enough for me, that's why," sang out the youngster, and the solemnity of the occasion was knocked to pieces.—Free Press.

Bad News.

The news was received yesterday morning from Chicago, that Mrs. Dr. Richardson had died at that place of la grippe. She was formerly Miss Susie McCone, and resided in Virginia City. Mrs. McCone is subject to heart disease and the sudden shock may result seriously. The remains will be interred in the family plot in San Francisco.
